

Chris & Colleen Davis

8 November 2023

To whom it may concern

RE: THEA ELLIOT DARLOW

I have had the privilege of knowing Thea since we were 12 years old, and right from the beginning, it was obvious that she was a true artist. Her passion for art was blatantly evident even in those early days, she stood head and shoulders above all of us in our class. I've watched her evolve and grow as an artist over the years. It's been incredible to witness her journey and see her develop her unique style.

I absolutely adore Thea's art and her unique style. Her work is a testament to her creativity and talent. Thea has a way of bringing her imagination to life on canvas, and every piece she creates tells a story. Her use of color and texture is mesmerizing, and it's clear that she puts her heart and soul into every brushstroke.

What I particularly love about Thea's art is the way she captures emotions and conveys them through her pieces. Whether it's a vibrant and lively composition or a serene and contemplative one, her art has the power to evoke deep feelings and connections.

Thea's style is unmistakable, and I find myself drawn to it time and time again. It's a blend of realism and abstract elements, with a touch of whimsy that makes her work stand out. Her art has the ability to transport me back home, and I can spend hours exploring the details in each piece.

Our friendship has allowed me to gain a deeper appreciation for her art. I've seen the dedication and hard work she puts into every piece, and it's always been clear that her artistic talent was not just a passing phase but a lifelong commitment. Thea's art has always been an extension of herself, a means of expressing her thoughts, feelings, and experiences.

It's wonderful to have such a personal connection with an artist as talented as Thea. Knowing her has given me a unique perspective on her creative process and has made me cherish her art even more. I'm excited to continue supporting her in her artistic journey and look forward to all the incredible work she'll create in the future.

Warm Regards

Colleen Davis